gr In nowadays, museums are not one of the most popular places. Even though it contains a large amount of information and objects, it is still not used effectly by the students. Ask why? I answered, i don't know (if i actually had such an interesting one in my school i would, probably, visit ^{it} sometimes)

But, anyway, i think, one of the reasons of "abounding" museums by students is a limitation of time. Firstly, we do not spend in school all day and our breaks are about ten or twenty minutes. Breaks are usually used for preparing for lessons or talking with teacher and friends. What about me, i love playing chess or something like this while new lesson isn't started yet.

gr det gr v Second reason is, as you, probably, guessed, phones. Second reason, as you, probably, guessed, is a phone. Mobile phone with Internet sources, social media, videogames, camera and photos, ebooks and many others. Don't all of this things take our time. Indeed, And not only ours! Teachers spend time with phones or computers too, so let's be justful. Well, this conversation is about students, so i should keep telling about them. Young people go to libraries and museums really rarely, because a lot of information we need we can find in internet, which rapidly is getting to know almost everything.

gr In my point of view, we better back to the "past life" in some ways and sometimes. I mean, you don't have to always hang out with technologies. If you have an opportunity to read paper book or go to museum why don't you just do this.

250 You can visit a museum in our school. There are a lot of things, which perfectly shows a history of Altay culture and, obviously, there are details, which keep a memory of life of our school and our village. Also you can give some memorizing things to you for museum and create you own history.
